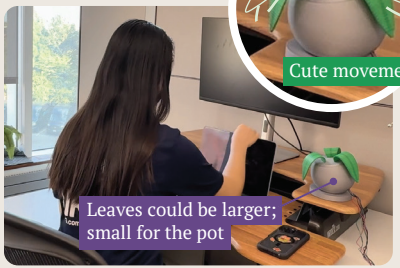
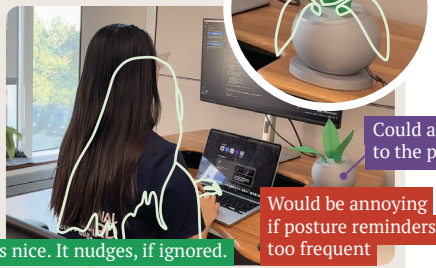
Snake Plant Imaginary



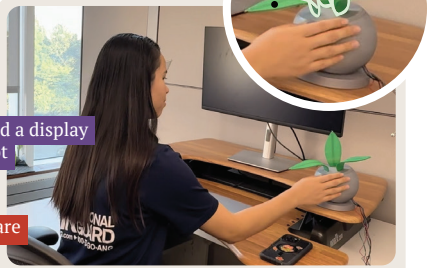
The plant greets Sally at the start of the workday with a gentle flutter.

How does it sense posture? If camera, could be creepy.



The plant remains upright unless Sally slouches, then it wilts.

Limited peripheral vision or deep focus may require stronger, multi-modal signals



The plant celebrates end of workday with wide pulsing.

How does it know the work has ended?